Levy Proposed To Raise
$6 Millions To Balance Budget.

MEETS OPPOSITION

Tension High as Work on Revenue Bill Nears Climax.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, informed the senate today in the midst of an outburst of controversy that the revenue bill would raise $6,000,000 more than it would cost to provide in order to balance the budget.

The revenue bill came up for discussion in the senate today in a clean up session prior to the major struggle over the general revenue tax.

Watson said the treasury had estimated the pending revenue measure now provided $9,000,000 whereas the treasury laws of the $1,000,000,000 must be raised in $3,000,000 in economies provided to meet the budget demand for 1933.

Where are we going to get the other $6,000,000? asked Watson who is supporting the general sales tax levy as a substitute for the special excise taxes.

Senator Coughlin, Republican of Michigan, advocated a slightly higher increase in the income schedule to meet the difference.

Coughlin warned that debate on the proposal of Walsh Democrat of Massachusetts for the 1.75 per cent sales tax would probably pro-pound a month or six weeks whereas we could balance the budget tonight if it weren't pending.

Advocates of the sales tax were challenged by Pat Harrison, Republican of Mississippi for an immediate show down as he shouted you haven't got the votes.

He accused President Hoover and sales tax advocates of attempting to browbeat the senate into "supporting the controversial sales tax" after the senate had already voted enough times to balance the budget.

Leaders of the sales tax checked over their polls. Both sides claiming victory but the most accurate poll available showed 46 of the 96 senators for it—less than the required majority.

As Harrison questioned the position of the President on the disputed levy, intonations reached Capitol Hill that Mr. Hoover was prepared to make clear his position at an early date on this contest.

Today's tax schedule were on stock and bond transfer, stock and bond issues and conveyances and taxes on old pipe lines all delicate subjects which would face sustained opposition except for the

FAILS TO MEET PROVISIONS OF LAW, IS RULING

Commissioners To Abandon Efforts To Get Immediate Relief Funds

PROVIDED NO AID TO CITY

Commission Charges Money
Would Be Used To Bolster General Fund.

The state relief commission has ruled that Marion county's application to issue $50,000 in poor relief bonds, the Associated Press reported this morning.

The commission said it had refused the application because the plan of the county commissioners did not include adequate relief for the city and that part of the plan of the county commissioners was to build up the county general fund instead of spending the entire amount for unemployment relief.

As a result of the commission's ruling on the application the county commissioners this morning said that they would make it further effort to issue relief funds.
This statement apparently leaves the proposed bond issue as a standstill. The relief commission said it would not again consider the Marion county request until some arrangement has been agreed upon between the county and city for division of the funds.
The Associated Press reported.

Only Application Refused
The relief commission approved applications of three counties to issue bonds under the utility excess tax and permitted several cities to divert a total of $200,000 gasoline tax and automobile license funds into relief channels. Marion county's application was the only one refused.

The county commissioners, explaining their decision not to issue relief bonds said that Marion county will receive its share of the excess tax on utilities during a five-year period and that this money would be used exclusively for relief purposes as defined by the emergency relief act. Had this county been granted permission to issue relief bonds the bonds would have been retired entirely by the utility tax, the commissioners said.

The commission turned down the application because it was under the Marion county plan the local board explained its plan at a hearing in Columbus yesterday afternoon.

A news dispatch said the relief commission took the view that the

The question of union of the Somerlot Pitched No-Hit Game for Serv-U-Wel Nine

INDEPENDENT SOFTBALL SEASON TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

MARION, MARYSVILLE, LIMA, CRESTLINE IN LINCOLN PARK TILTS

Three Games Carded for Opening Day To Start at 2:30.

It isn't often the opportunity is presented to see four classy softball teams perform on a Marion diamond in one afternoon. However, the opportunity—the first of the 1934 season—will be presented here on Monday (Memorial Day) when teams of Marion, Lima, Crestline and Marysville clash in a three-game tournament at Lincoln park. The three-game tourney will mark the opening of the independent softball season at Lincoln park. Games will be played every Sunday during the remainder of the season at the North side park and some of the classiest teams in the state will be brought here to compete.

The first of the three games Monday will be started at 2:30 p. m. in order not to conflict with the Memorial day ceremonies. The three will be run off as rapidly as possible.

Jeane's Lunch will represent Marion in the Memorial day games. The Jenner team will be an all-star combine, composed of some of the best players in the four city leagues.

Either Bob Gamble or Hap Appleget will do the pitching for the Jenner team with possibly a third hurler held in reserve. The third man is a newcomer to Marion and is reputed to have a world of speed. Walt Meichant will be at first and Bob Meichant at second, Francis Bacon is expected to be at shortstop and Eldo Robbins at third. Gibson, Messinger and Neimeyer will cavort in the outfield.

This team boasts an array of slugging power which is able to break up a ball game most any time with hefty smashes and is also a light, offensive team.

The Equity Union Creamery will represent Lima. This team will be remembered as the one so popular with fans who attended the central Ohio championship tournament here last summer. Don Jampher, a speed ball thrower will do the pitching while playing here last summer and is reputed better this season than last. He will have a fast and clever team behind him, and one that can step up to the plate and smash out its share of extra base hits. Doc Dove, the team's shortstop is touted as the best in Lima and several other infielders are rated highly.

The lineup of the Crestline and Marysville teams are not definite. Both managers insist their teams are able to play ball with the best of them and both have compiled good records in their own ballparks to date this season. It would not be surprising to see them spring some surprises here Sunday.

The first game Monday will match the Jenner Lunches of Marion and Crestline. Lima will meet Marysville in the second game and the two winners will play the third and final game. The winner of the tourney will be given a handsome silver cup. Paul Rice and Norris Crisinger will umpire the games.

CALL ISSUED FOR JUNIOR LOOP TEAMS

Managers of intermediate softball teams who intend to enter the proposed league in commerce competition next week are urged to get their entry blanks and a copy of the league rules at the Y. M. C. A. sometime today. The entries lists for the teams should be turned in to the Y not later than Monday in order that the schedule can be completed as soon as possible. It is expected that at least 10 and possibly 12 teams will compete. The league may be divided into two divisions if entries warrant.

MASONS BEATEN IN CLASH WITH KAPPAS

Lodge Team Blanked by 5-0 Count; Erie Traffic Club Beats Presbyterian A. C.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK Sports Editor, The Star

The Kappas softball team of the Commercial league hurdled the third obstacle in their path to the third consecutive league championship yesterday afternoon on the Lincoln park diamond by smothering a liberal reading of whitewash over the Masonic lodge team and running out on the long end of a 5-0 count. The Kappas now have the best record in the loop although their percentage is the same as that of the K. of P. lodge and Prospect Firemen. The champions have three victories, Prospect two and the K. of P. one. None have been defeated. Neither Prospect nor the K. of P. played yesterday.

If some way were found to erase from the records the first inning of the Masonic-Kappas game the tilt would be remembered as a first class mound duel. Bryant Corwin, usually effective right hander was nominated to start the game for the Masons. Hardly had he ascended the knoll when he was greeted with a barrage of base wallpats that sent four runs scurrying across the plate before the Masonic manager could call on Jack Ling to come to his relief.

When Ling took the knoll to replace Corwin the game was turned into a first class tossing battle. Gene Gunder gave up three hits during the seven inning stay on the knoll. Ling allowed just two strikeouts during his six and one-third inning performance. Both were effective in the pinches. Gunder struck out six and Ling five. Both had the batters popping easy fly to the fielders or rolling out to the infield most of the time.

At least once during every season Starling Somerlot has to turn in a sterling pitching performance. The 1934 achievement came yesterday when Somerlot pitched a no-hit, no-run game for the Serv-U-Wel Grocers against St. Paul's Episcopal nine. The Grocers won the game by a 14-1 score, the one run coming as a result of errors.

The Grocers clubbed the offerings of Cheney and Knappenhauer for 11 hits and took advantage of 12 St. Paul errors to collect their 14 tallies. The Serv-U-Wel team had three misplays.

The Erie Traffic club boosted its season's standing to 500 per cent by recording an 8-2 victory over the Presbyterian A. C. team in the third game of the day. Don Shoemaker held the Presbyterians to three hits in the seven innings while his mates were bombarding Caniner for eight satellites. Extra's aided in the scoring of several Erie markers.

PIRATES CLIMB INTO FOURTH PLACE BY BEATING CARDS, 8-4

Chicago Cubs Boost Lead Over Boston; Cleveland Downs St. Louis.

By The Associated Press
One of the mysteries of the major league season has been the ease with which the Pittsburgh Pirates, floundering around in the second division most of the time, have been able to take the St. Louis Cardinals.

The world champions won their first two clashes from the Corsairs but since then, the Pirates have walked away with eight of the last 10 games the clubs have played.

Their eighth victory over the champions, achieved yesterday by an 8-4 count, boosted the Pirates into fourth place, only one game behind the third place Cincinnati Reds.

Meanwhile the Chicago Cubs increased their league lead to a game and a half by beating Cincinnati, 6-4, while the Boston Braves succumbed again to the Phillies, 6-5. The Cubs rushed all their runs across the plate in the third inning. Charlie Gilmor's homer with one on being the high spot.

George Kelly's second home run in as many days starting a five-run Brooklyn rally that sank the New York Giants, 5 to 2, and dropped Melvina's henchmen into the cellar.

The American league schedule was restricted to two games. The Detroit Tigers lunched 10 hits to good advantage to halt the Chicago White Sox, 7-5, and tighten their grip on third place.

The Cleveland Indians battered George Hlocholder for nine hits and six runs in seven innings and scored to a fairly easy victory over the St. Louis Browns, 6-3. Clint Brown gave five hits, one George Goslin's first homer of the season.

John Law's Stymie Eliminates Golfer

By The Associated Press
ENCLOSURE SPRINGS, Mo., May 28—The law laid Alvin J. Staller a difficult stymie and the sharp shooting Minneapolis golfer was eliminated from the Excelsior Springs invitational golf tournament yesterday.

A warrant, charging issuance of worthless checks, got in the way of Staller at the twelfth green of his second round match. He had bettered his first round with a 72 for medalist honors Thursday, swamped his first round opponent and was one up in the second round at the twelfth. But he couldn't get around that warrant, forfeited the match and went to jail.

Staller told police his eagerness to get into the tournament and his lack of funds got him into the traps.

WESLEYAN FAVORED TO CAPTURE MEET

GRANVILLE, O., May 28—Ohio Wesleyan university ruled the favorite today to capture the seventh annual Buckeye conference field and track meet here. Nine athletes of the Wesleyan team qualified in the preliminaries yesterday.

Deaton and Miami qualified six, but the former's chances for a victory declined through the loss of Wednesday, star dash performer, who strained tendons in both legs, and was unable to compete.

New Members Added.

WOOSTER, O., May 28—Three new members and one probationary member were added to the Ohio conference at a meeting of its business and faculty members yesterday. The resignation of Western Reserve university was accepted. New members elected were Toledo university, Kent State and John Carroll of Cleveland. Bowling Green was added as a probationary member.

American Stars Win.

AUTUMN, France, May 28—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan today regained for the United States the women's doubles title of the French tennis championships, defeating Mrs. Ellen Hornet Whittinghall and Betty Nuthall of England, 6-1, 6-3, in the final match.

Pittsburgh Star Dislodges Chick Hafey of Cincinnati; Foxx Holds Post.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 28—The National league developed a brand new batting leader last week when Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics continued to set a killing pace for the American league sluggers.

Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates lifted his mark to 406 yesterday after steady improvement through the week and held first place in the National by a margin of 16 points over Chick Hafey of Cincinnati, the former leader.

Foxx had his ups and downs through the week but today he still had the highest average of any regular in the majors, .418. Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees, with .400 held second place.

Foxx also led the majors in home runs, hits, and runs batted in and was first in scoring in his own league. He was credited with 15 homers in his 58 hits, had scored 38 times and had driven home 68 tallies.

Chuck Klein of the Phillies was the only slugger whose record could compare with Foxx's. He had 46 runs and seven triples to lead both leagues in those two departments.

When the first outdoor wrestling program is presented in Marion Monday night the two top wrestling artists whose pictures are located on either side of this story will be cast in two of the major roles. It will be the first appearance here of one while the other has been here before but not for a long time.

Pete Metropoulos, at the left, will clash with Robin Reed, the sensational waterweight in an effort to lift the waterweight crown which now reposes on Reed's brow. They will meet in a two-hour time limit affair with two falls to win. Metropoulos is rated as just as clever and fast as Reed and that, Marion fans need not be told, is plenty fast. Metropoulos has never been here before.

Leo Alexander, the Gallopino Gatto, has appeared before in a local ring but not in the last year. He is a rough and tough mainman who likes to give and take with the best of them. He will meet Karl Davis of Columbus in a 45-minute battle which should provide almost as much excitement as the feature event.

AMERICANS LEADING IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, May 28—Australia, one of the home of tennis champions, faced a hard uphill fight today to wrest North America's Davis cup honors from the United States.

Already defeated in one singles encounter and barely hanging on in another halted by yesterday's rain, the men from down under faced the possible necessity of having to win today's doubles match and both of the remaining singles bouts Monday if they were to escape elimination.

Frank Shields gave Uncle Sam a victory in the opening singles tilt by overwhelming diminutive Harry Hopman, Australia No. 2, by scores of 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Ellsworth Vines tore into Jack Crawford and was leading two sets to one when a spring rainstorm halted play after the first intermission. Vines ran off the first two sets, 6-2, and 6-4. Crawford the third 6-2, and they were locked in a 3-3 tie when officials waved them off the court.

SECOND PILOT DIES AS CAR CRASHES ON INDIANAPOLIS TRACK

Thirty-Seven Cars Already Qualified for Memorial Day Speed Classic.

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, May 28—Although the start of the 1932 50-mile automobile race still was 48 hours in the future, two fatalities were listed today in the records of the annual classic of the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Milton Jones, 36, of Cleveland, was fatally injured yesterday while practicing for Monday's race when his racing car got out of control at high speed on the dangerous southeast turn, ripped through the concrete outer retaining wall and dropped 18 feet to the ground. His mechanic, Harold Gray, 24, also of Cleveland, was critically injured.

On the other south turn of the speedway, Wednesday, another car skidded up the bricks to plunge over the wall, killing the race mechanic, Harry Cox of Indianapolis. The driver, Benny Benson, also of Indianapolis, was seriously hurt.

Some 15 or 20 drivers were given their final chance to qualify for a starting position in the race today. To date 37 drivers have passed the 10 mile trials at the required speed of better than 100 miles per hour.

The starting field is limited to forty cars, but in case more than three additional drivers qualify today, the racers turning in the slowest qualifying times will be eliminated.

COLUMBUS NINE IN BASEBALL FINALS

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 28—Cincinnati Roger Bacon and Columbus South were the class A finalists in the Ohio High school baseball tournament here today.

South emerged from the opening round behind the mound work of Bill Hickie who pitched a no-hit, no-run, game to defeat Bridgeport, 5 to 0.

Roger Bacon won the right to play the final by eliminating Columbus West, 5 to 1.

Class B finalists were Dayton Fairmont and Tiltonville.

BRAXTON ALLOWS 3 HITS, BUT LOSES, 5-0

Indianapolis Ousted from American Association Lead by Toledo.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 28—Garland Braxton, a former major league pitcher, now working for Milwaukee is going to believe for a long time that there is no justice.

Braxton yesterday held Minneapolis to three hits, but when the ball game was over and the accounts settled, the Millers had won a 5 to 0 victory over the Brewers.

Braxton, until the seventh did not permit a single hit but in the lucky round, Joe Hauser exploded a homer and the ball game was over. Some loose defensive play in the eighth allowed the Millers four more, and gave them victory and the league lead.

Louisville was outbatted and Ken Ash turned in good pitching for Columbus but the Colonels won a 5 to 4 victory.

Indianapolis relinquished the league lead by losing a night game to Toledo, 2 to 1.

The Kansas City-St. Paul doubleheader was postponed because of unfavorable weather.

Slow Response To Seed Drive Threatens Gardens

Murphy Says Only Few Donations Made; Need Is Urgent; Director Says Ground Is Ready for Planting and Season Will Soon Be Gone.

If Marion's 20-acre municipal garden is to fulfill its purpose this summer, there will have to be a marked increase in the donations of seeds. It was revealed today in a check of the seeds already offered. While some seeds have been donated, the amount, according to Safety Director Emory M. Murphy, who is in charge of the project, is far short of what will be needed to plant the tract.

The lot, offered to the city for a municipal garden by Judge George R. Scofield, has been plowed and is now in readiness to be planted and in view of the advanced planting season, the safety director said today he would start Tuesday morning to plant what seeds have already been offered.

Corn, beans, cabbage and tomato plants are especially wanted at this time, W. D. Brown, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce said today, although any kind of vegetable seed would be welcome.

City officials are especially anxious to have the garden planted to its capacity believing that it would go far toward relieving the burden of caring for the unemployed which from all indications will fall on the city with greater force next winter.

Ten days of the city officials is given by the fact that the city at the present time owes a $2000 grocery bill with the amount piling up each week and with little encouragement as to the source of money with which to pay the bill. Approximately $7000 of the $2000 to be received by the city during the year from the gasoline and automobile tax, has been received and applied on the city's grocery bill.

"SCARFACE" COMING; WALTER HUSTON TO PLAY "NIGHT COURT"

Straight from the records of the worst crimes in the history of gangdom, comes "Scarface," which will show at the Ohio one week beginning Sunday. Howard Hughes, the young man who has a fancy for making big pictures of big themes, produced this picture which has been breaking box-office records over the country, and making Paul Ruff and Ann Dvorak actors to confer with on the talking screen. Karen Morley has a featured role.

Ben Hecht, co-author of "The Front Page," is responsible for the screen play, "Scarface." The original story was a novel by Armitage Trail. Hughes leased practically an entire studio and constructed 62 sets in preparation for the filming of this picture, which cost approximately $1,000,000.

Boris Karloff and Tully Marshall have important roles. Marshall is seen in the part of managing editor of a metropolitan newspaper.

"NIGHT COURT" DRAMA AT PALACE THREE DAYS

Another picture which has been causing critics to take a new lease on life, "Night Court," will open Sunday at the Palace for three days.

The cast bristles with such actors and actresses as Phillip Holmes, Walter Huston, Anita Page, Lewis Stone, Mary Carlisle, John Miljan, Jean Harlow, Tully Marshall and Noel Francis. The picture was made from an original story by Mark Hellinger and Charles Brackett.

W. S. Van Dyke, the director, was responsible for two thrillers, "Trader Horn" and "Tarzan, the Ape Man." Rubber mallets were used in place of authentic gavels in the courtroom scenes, the reason being the sensitiveness of the microphone to the forceful pounding on the judge's desk by Walter Huston. "We do not offer our picture in any sense as an expose. It has no particular locale. The characters are drawn from imagination. It is intended only as entertainment, a human drama that might happen," Van Dyke said of his picture.

FLASHES OF LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO—Nine lunges seen in the city aquarium have been put on the pay roll of the commercial fishing industry to keep them out of the Pacific ocean. When only 310 uplice was bid for the $1,000 seals the city thought to turn them loose in the ocean. The fishermen came running. "Don't do that," they cried in alarm. "These seals would hang around the bay and fish us out of business. Keep 'em where they are and we'll feed 'em free."

DOUGLAS, Ga.—Newt Carver knows his chickens and Newt Carver's chickens know their owner. When Newt saw three fowls in a shop, he didn't say anything, just bought the chickens. He took them home and watched them at roosting time. One went to the henhouse, another flew into a chinaberry tree and the third sought her old place in another tree. On the basis of this proof of ownership a father and son were convicted of chicken stealing.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—Even safe blowers can have compassion on the needy. A gang piled open the strong box in a laundry office when they found the only money in the employees to the community chest they left the money there.

NEW YORK—Judge Genevieve Cline, the only woman federal judge in the country, believes that women should be themselves. "Women make a mistake," she says, "when they try to be different, when they substitute their own way for masculine tradition."

FREMONT, Neb.—No matter who wins the Nebraska gubernatorial election next November, Gov. Charles W. Bryan and his Republican opponent, Dwight Griswold, can remember they have been in a race. They have been matched for a fact face at a veterans' meeting at Kearney, July 4.

Madeline Slade Places Gandhi Next to Buddha and Christ for Leadership

Tells for First Time Why She Became Disciple of Mahatma.

In this exclusive interview, given to James A. Mills, Associated Press staff correspondent in India, Madeline Slade, a daughter of a British admiral and now Mirabal, disciple of Mahatma Gandhi, tells for the first time why she abandoned her high social position for a place among the humble.

BY JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Writer.

BOMBAY, May 24.—Mirabal, just freed from the cell where she served three months for her activities in Mahatma Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign, seemed more impenetrable than ever.

Daughter of the late Rear Admiral Sir Edmund Slade, commander of a British naval force in East Indian waters, abandoned her high social place in London and Bombay, to become a humble disciple of Gandhi.

Her reasons have been known in an obvious, fragmentary manner but she always has refused interviews. But now she was ready to talk and this is her story:

"I was reared in luxury and ease. I had a splendid education, had been widely, danced, had parties, lovely jewels, many admirers.

Decides Life A Sham

"But I lacked spiritual satisfaction and real contentment and I decided that life was an empty sham.

"I found people, vain, petty and selfish, jealous, selfish.

"They sought only their own comfort, happiness and gain. Humanity and its sufferings and sorrows were secondary to them. They had no ideals.

"I began to seek light. I found it when I met Mahatma Gandhi, the great Indian philosopher, the great leader of the Indian people.

"I was in daily contact with Mahatma Gandhi, and through him with God. I found myself through Mr. Gandhi.

"Through his teachings I came to understand the beauty of other religions, and to know Christianity better. For he is a greater Christian than millions of those who call themselves such.

"The political side of Gandhi is the least part of him. As a moral teacher and reformer the world has not known his equal since Buddha and Christ.

"He made no attempt to convert me from Christianity. I am not an orthodox Hindu. The Mahatma did not baptize me or immerse me in the holy Ganges, as has been reported.

Has New Identity

"Gandhi hates conversion, and believes that all religions are good. 'The past is absolutely irrelevant,' Madeline Slade, as such, is dead. Only Mirabal, which is the name given me by Gandhi, lives."

Mirabal explained that Mirabal was a Rajputana princess, who gave up mundane pleasures to become a devotee of Krishna, the Hindu god, and that the "bal" is a Hindu feminine suffix. She is sometimes called "Mirabehn," the termination "behn" meaning "sister."

"My former life is erased from the tablets of my soul," she concluded. "As a worshipper of Mahatma Gandhi and of Rama, the Hindu god of gods, I have an infinitely richer spiritual existence to look forward to."

"Even while I was in prison the Mahatma guided me, though the walls of two jails separated us."

CARELESS PARKING DRAWS POLICE IRE

Chief Warns Parkers Will Be Tagged for Ignoring Lines.

Motorists who straddle the parking lines on the downtown streets will be tagged and subject to a fine just the same as any other traffic violator, Police Chief W. E. Marks announced today in declaring a war on careless parking in the business district.

The lines are painted on the street, the chief explained, for the purpose of simplifying parking and providing parking space for just as many cars as possible and the motorist who drives to the curb without any regard to the lines in most cases takes up enough space for two cars.

There will be no warning, it was pointed out by the chief, any car found parked straddling the lines will be tagged and the offender will be fined.

Now parking lines have already been painted on West Center street and the work will be continued until all streets designated for angle parking will be painted. An amendment to the traffic ordinance passed by city council Monday night provided for the changing of the angle from 30 to 45 degrees.

Tintype Brings Back Story of Famous Kidnaping 58 Years Ago

A tintype of Charlie Ross, who, next to the Lindbergh baby, was probably the most widely sought kidnaping victim in the history of the country, is the prized possession of Albert McGonagle, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGonagle of No. 2, Schoenhub court.

The tintype was given to Albert McGonagle by his grandfather, George N. Devine, who received it from the father of Charlie Ross during the nationwide hunt of the boy, McGonagle said.

It shows plainly the features of the three-and-a-half year old victim of the kidnaping, sitting beside his cousin. It was taken about six months before the kidnaping. McGonagle said, recalling the story told by his grandfather, who died several years ago.

Mr. Ross, who is running down one of the hundreds of clues to the whereabouts of his son, spent nearly a week at the Devine farm south of Somerset, O., in Perry county shortly after Charlie Ross was kidnapped from his home in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1874. When he left the farm after a fruitless search for his son in that vicinity, Mr. Ross left the tintype of his son.

The two principal suspects in the Ross kidnaping were shot during a robbery in New York. The leader of the gang was killed outright. The other started to tell the story of the kidnaping but died before he could finish it.

That Sailor Caught in Akron's Tow Rope Holds Record for Suspense, Will Says

BY WILL ROGERS

WELL, all I know is just what I read in the papers. Without that trouble out here in Cal. about the Akron landing. They had had all this tough time crossing the country, storms and bad weather, then when the sailors at San Diego tried to help him land there was snatched about the greatest bit of drama that we have read of in our time.

That bit of the sailor being drawn up there for over an hour and a half, now if there is a man living that has had an hour and a half of any more suspense than that, that was actual suspense, he must have been a cool headed customer to have thought of trying himself on like that. They figured they would have to go out in a boat and drop him in the ocean. There was a nice little thing to look forward to.

"We will drop you in the ocean," being a sailor, it would just be his luck he couldn't swim. But that's what I call real drama. You know his had to tell about these big old ruckers, as to whether they are a success or not. Course they do get places. Look at that one that went around the world. And this one had come all the way across our Continent without gas, food, water, hot dogs, or a morning paper. Course it had been two or three days doing it, but at that it beat a rain. But I will trust all that to our Army or Navy men to figure out. They know whether it's true or not. Remember, there are 84 men on that thing. That's a lot of men to carry across the continent in one load.

How Many Sailors?

I tell you any experiment that is being made in the air is not a waste of time or money. Our defense, offense, and all have got to come from the air. So these big dehydrated are going to find some place in our National defense. You know that's a terrible job being in charge of that floating bladder. This guy Roosevelt has done a fine job of it. Course when you want to land you can't always find two hundred sailors in all parts of the country. Some parts of the country you have to fly around for several hours before you can see two hundred sailors. Lots of people living in this country for all these years never saw two hundred sailors. I don't much care to cruise the air if its going to take two hundred men to pull me down.

In an airplane it don't take anybody to pull you down. In fact most of the time you wish you had two hundred men to hold you up. I have seen times in a plane when I have wished there had been men underneath with a net. But lets get on to pleasanter subjects.

Marlene Dietrich, our movie heroine, has come to terms and went back to Germany. Never had any idea going but neither has Greta, but its a good netlet if it works and it has. They are still on my neck for not producing Greta at that Grand Hotel Opening. As they say in the Far East, I lost face. If I can dig Greta up some of these days it may get me back my lost prestige, but she is a tough beauty to get hold of.

Doing Fairbanks got back a couple of weeks ago from the Fiji Islands, or some outlandish place that he had been. He took pictures of it. He said that down there you could live on 90 cents a week. That is about ten cents more than here, or what some have to live on here. However you keep reading about things getting better, but most of the articles are written by folks that are doing well themselves. With the elections coming on you are going to be fed up with a lot of hope about a lot of things. Naturally the Republicans are going to put their best "Slide" forward. They are just trying now to figure out which side is their best.

May Be Blocked

Roosevelt is pretty well sweeping the country for the Democrats but perhaps won't have enough to nominate on the first ballot. Smith combined with a few of the native sons would be able to block him. Then it would be just a wild guess as to who would be nominated. Mr. Hoover just goes right on wanting to stay in there. I had kept thinking that he would finally give up and say, "Well boys here she is. Take it whoever wants it. I have had enough."

But once a man is President he is just as hard to pry out of there as a Senator or a town Constable, or any political office. He has done some pretty courageous things lately in a political way. If he will get up and cuss the Senate and Congress out a couple of more times, he is liable to wake up a hero for never was "Cussing Congress" as popular as it is now and then. I guess he is not to blame for it either. Of course they are not doing the best they can, but they are doing the best they know how.

Conventions will be on us now. They are like the lotteries. They come every few years. Will meet you all there at one or the other of 'em. They will be good Conventions this year for both sides will be in doubt. And the people don't care.
